DAVE WAUGH

TEACHERS' PRESIDENT WANTS TENSION RELAXED

On Monday last the students in the Institute of Education held their elections for posts on the executive. The polling climaxed a week of vigorous campaigning during which numerous posters appeared and long speeches were made.

By lunch time on Monday the votes were counted; the results - Dave Waugh, President; Elizabeth Macdougall, Vice-President; Louise Houston, Secretary.

A cart drawn by the Freshmen in the Physical Education Course took the new executive on a triumphal ride around the campus with the Student Teachers jubilantly trotting behind.

A reporter from the "Faill-Ye" had an interview with some members of the executive.

The relaxation of tensions between the BSc. degree course and the Institute of Education is of utmost concern to DAVE WAUGH, new President of the Student Teachers' Society, but he declares, "Much of the feeling results only from some individuals who have no legitimate reason for having animosity." Dave is an enthusiastic Clan member who flourishes a sparkling Macdonald tie. He feels Mac's extra-curricular activities are definitely adequate, although he hopes in the near future that the commuter teachers will have more opportunity to participate in our activities.

THE LOST ART

People who prefer to go to University after leaving High School rather than going to work, have a definite aim in mind. This aim is usually that of getting the training necessary to equip them for a career. Such a training, however, has many facets, each having a great degree of importance. One particular facet that seems to be sadly neglected is the social side. We must hasten to add that by "social side" we do not mean gallivanting, but rather all those processes which help to broaden the individual. One such process is the art of conversation.

We meet people every day and the impression they leave with us depends to a large extent not so much on what they wore, or how they looked, but what they said. The projection of the personality through the means of speech is still one of the greatest arts of our time. But even without the gift of oratory, men and women find joy in exchanging ideas through conversation. The experiences of every individual are so diverse and different that conversation cannot help being interesting, informative and amusing. The different things that people talk about would take volumes in print. However, there are some topics that are of general interest. They may include such things as the weather or the day's events. One would expect people attending our Universities occasionally to discuss matters on a higher plane. Our universities have a poor reputation in this regard.

To say that our standard of conversation on this campus is generally low is to make the understatement of the year. Anyone who wishes to challenge this statement should try to analyse a random sample of the conversations in the Coffee Shop, the Stewart Room, the Common Rooms and other places where groups of students meet. Perhaps the reason for this is the fact that we don't think enough, and perhaps we don't think enough because we aren't forced to think. The time was when man had to think out his problems or perish. Today we have many people doing the preliminary thinking for us in the form of mechanisation and automation.

Subjects such as Rock and Roll records, Football and Hockey are topical but there are other things that matter. So few students ever bother to discuss world affairs; we seem to only be interested in the few square miles that affect us directly, yet we say we are "thinkers", the "best of our youth", the "leaders of tomorrow". Isn't that a contradiction?

There is nothing more exhilarating, more pleasant, more enjoyable than healthy discussion, even discussion for the sake of argument. It sharpens the wit, promotes quick thinking, and is excellent mental exercise. Young men and women need this exercise. There can be no excuse that there is nothing to talk about. Many people feel strongly about something or other; there is nothing like championing and defending one's conviction.

As long as civilization lasts, there will always be a place for self-expression-a place for the projection of the personality-a place for the lost art-the art of conversation.

K.G.R.

Two privates had adjoining cells in the brig. "And what are you in for?" asked the first private.

"Oh, I was assigned to the officer's party," said the second private, "And the captain told me to stand at the door and call the officers names."

Dave is a Montrealer, and a graduate of Westmount High. He obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree from McGill University in 1956 majoring in History and Geography. For several summers he has been a sectional director of boys' summer camps. He has had a year's business experience with Dupont of Canada. Dave's goal is to obtain his Master's Degree in Education Administration.

Elizabeth Macdougall, Dave's second-in-command in the STS., is a sophomore in the intermediate class. She intends to achieve her degree in two more years at McGill. Liz has definite ideas about uniting the commuters and the rest of the Institute of Education in social and sports events. She also feels residential home economics and teaching students could be more highly integrated socially.

Elizabeth has specialized in languages. She has tutored French and studied Latin, Spanish and German. With ambitions of being someday an exchange student of Europe, she is a superb example of a "Macdonald-trained" teacher.

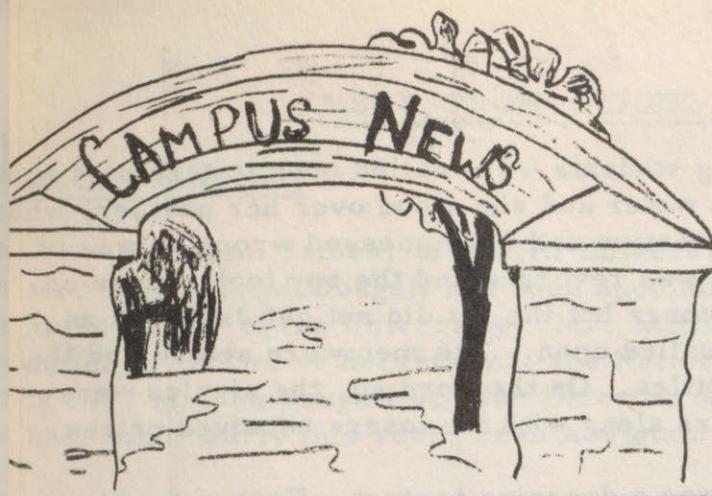

Secretary of the Student Teachers' Society is an IODE scholarship winner, Louise Houston, a commuter from Montreal in the first year of the 2 year intermediate course. Louise holds a remarkable record at Westhill High on their Students' Council. With this past experience, she will be an efficient and certainly enthusiastic member of Clan Macdonald.

The new executive has already begun to take on its responsibility as an integral part of our Student Community.

To laugh is to be free from worry
 Who doesn't worry lives a long time
 To live a long time is to last
 Therefore he who laughs, lasts.

The story is told of the lady who went to see the races. At the track, before the race began, she tapped a gentleman on the shoulder and asked:

"Could you please lend me a safety pin?"
 "Sorry, Miss, I don't have one."
 Suddenly over the loud speaker the announcer cried,
 "THEY'RE OFF!" And she fainted!

THE BAIE D'URFEE FIRE AND MAC'S FIRE DEPARTMENT

by Max Polster

Mac's fire department, after a three hour battle Monday afternoon, managed to save the home of Mr. Barrat at 20758 Lakeshore Road in Baie d'Urfée. The fire, which began in the basement, crept up through the insulation between the walls, reducing the inside walls of the front part of the quaint Tudor house to charcoal. The main part of the house remained unharmed except for water damage, an estimate of which was unavailable. Three rooms were completely gutted and several pieces of furniture could not be removed in time. No one was in the home at the time of the fire except Mr. Barrat's Chinese valet who phoned in the alarm. There were no injuries. As a reward for their valiant efforts our weary firefighters were served refreshments by the neighbours after putting out the blaze.

Mac's fire department consists of one new shiny fire truck and a fire chief, this reporter learned from Mr. Best, general foreman of buildings and grounds. Volunteers make up the crew. I asked Mr. Best why a fire department was needed. He explained that many small grass fires occurring especially during the summer months make a fire department a must. This unit also serves the small municipality of Baie d'Urfée. The town of Baie d'Urfée pays a fee of $100.00 for every call this unit answers. Most of the calls are for small grass fires. Occasionally, however, a building catches fire.

Last year the department answered about a dozen calls for fires in the homes of residents in Baie d'Urfée.

FUN NITE

The first "Lit. and Deb." presentation for the year took place on Wednesday evening, October 2, in the form of "Fun Nite".

This "Fun Nite" is a rehash of Art Linkletter's programme "People are Funny". R.D. Hamilton was Master of Ceremonies.

Three men were called from the audience. The first went to the cemetery to get an inscription off a certain stone. He returned well bathed in "good enriched Canadian flour". The second, was sent with a soap box to the coffee shop to talk on the subject of standard uniforms for all women students. He returned the worse off from a pommeling with tomatoes and water. Armed hecklers were close at his heels. The third was sent to the "local pub" for a couple of drinks; he returned rubbing his dishpan hands.

Four people from the audience participated in a pie eating contest. The girls were the winners. Then two unsuspecting students were called upon to take part in a quiz. The girl was given a pitcher of ice water and she stood over her partner, who sat on the stage. The man was asked a question and if he guessed wrong he was to be revived with water. Then the process was reversed and the boy took charge of the ice water. Again the vixen was the winner but the fox did not get drenched as was the plan. Six contestants were also called upon. The men were seated and the girls were presented with nippled coke bottles. On the word go, the nipples were pushed into the guys' mouths. The winners along with the losers received prizes.

The funniest event of the evening was a dressing contest. Each was given a piece of luggage containing the necessary apparel; only it was that belonging to the opposite sex. This gentleman will now understand why it takes his date so long to get ready. The last game of the evening was a spaghetti contest. Each contestant was given a spoon and then blindfolded. It was the task of each contestant to feed his respective partner the spaghetti using the spoons. When the bowls were empty there was more on the outside than inside.

A thunderous "Macdonald Cheer" brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL NEWS

Under the leadership of President Eric Samuels, the Students' Council met on Tuesday evening October first. Four issues were on the agenda.

1. The closing of the Stewart Room
2. Choosing of an honorary President and Vice-president
3. Disposal of the Hungarian Student Relief Fund
4. Renting of the ping-pong tables and poolroom to a group of conventioners during early June.

The members of the Council were not informed as to the reason for the closing of the Stewart Room, and it was closed without consulting them. It was decided that they should determine why the floor had not been repaired when the rest of the room was repainted this past summer, as the tiles have been loosening over a period of years.

Apparently the members of the Council had not spent much time in thinking about possible nominees for the positions of Honorary President and Honorary Vice-president. After some discussion, the secretary, Eric Armstrong, was appointed to ask Professor Munroe and Mrs. Munroe to accept the respective positions. In the case of their refusal, other candidates were to be kept in mind.

The Students' Council has a sum of 400 dollars in the Hungarian Student Relief Fund. There are now four Hungarian students taking agriculture here at Macdonald College. The sum will be divided equally among them to be used in any manner they wish.

It was decided that the poolroom and ping-pong tables would be rented this summer to a group of conventioners.

NEWS FROM OTHER UNIVERSITIES

McGill University

Principal James, of McGill University, announced late in September that Mr. Collin C. McDougall had been appointed to succeed Mr. T.H. Matthews LL.D. as Registrar of the University. Mr. Matthews has now entered upon his new duties in Ottawa as Secretary to the National Conference of Canadian Universities. In 1947 Mr. McDougall became Director of the University Placement Bureau, and has, since early this year, been Assistant Registrar of the University.

This year's programme of the McGill Debating Union was gotten underway with an Exhibition Debate which took place last Tuesday afternoon. After a series of elimination debates, the final election of the teams will be held between October 28th and November 1st.

University of Western Ontario

Dances and other social events at the University have been cancelled because of the "dozens" hospitalized with the flu. It is believed to be impossible to quarantine whole residences at the University.

McMaster University

A football game between the University of Toronto Blues and the McMaster Marauders was cancelled because of a suspected attack of Asiatic flu at McMaster.

TEMPORARY FROSH ELECTIONS

Recently the Freshettes and the Freshmen held elections for their temporary class representatives. The Senior girls presided at a Freshette meeting held on September 23, and after they had explained the duties of the various representatives, and the rules and regulations of the college, the Freshettes then proceeded with their elections. The following list of class officers is only temporary and in approximately a month's time they will be made permanent pending the decision of the class.

President:	Gwen Black
Vice-President:	Judy Clement
Secretary-Treasurer:	Tyne Hunter
House Committee:	Margot Anderson
Lit and Deb. Representative:	Pat Duplisea
Coffee Shop Representative:	Mylitta Szewezuk
Women's Athletic Representative:	Betty Macedo
Dance Committee Representative:	Liz Meade

ENQUIRER

"What are the chances of the Football Team winning the Championship this year?"

Wally McFarlane, B.Sc.(Agr.)II-- "There's a great potential trying out for the team this year. Chances are very good to excellent that Mac will take the Championship."

Dot Anderson, B.Sc.(H.Ec.)II-- "From what I've seen they're very fast this year, and from what I've heard, Bishop's are lousy. They still can't block."

Keith McCleary, B.Sc.(Agr.)III-- "We'll try our best."

Mary Hall, B.Ed. (Teachers)II-- "They're a pretty good team. If they can overcome Bishop's, their toughest opponent, I think they'll have it, with the help of the Phys. Ed. Teachers, of course. By the way, Bishop's considers Mac as their strongest opponent."

Davie Mowat, B.Sc.(Agr.)IV-- "It's too early to predict, but barring injuries we should prove strong contenders for the championship. It's also hard to say what the other teams are like this year."

Bobby Pugh, Coach-- "I feel that this year's football team is better than last year's was at this stage. However, last year's team improved as the season progressed, and finished in better shape than the condition our present team is in now. This year there are several new quarterbacks. Once they become more familiar with their positions and more acclimatized, the team will improve."

It is impossible to say what might happen, injuries, flu, etc., however, with a little bit of luck the team should have a good chance."

John Allan, B.Sc.(Agr.)IV-- "The football team can do wonders this year if they maintain that "spirit" so necessary to win games. Support of the entire student body will go a far way in helping the team to win."

.....

Speaking of who is sane and who isn't, the story is told of a man who was walking by a mental hospital with a sack on his back. A patient looking out of the window, saw him, knocked on the window and said,

"What you got there?"

"Fertilizer," answered the man.

"What's it for?"

"To put on my strawberries."

"Oh," said the patient, "I put cream on mine, but I'm crazy."

(Temporary Frosh Elections cont.)

On Monday September 30, the Freshmen held their elections. The results were:

President:	Ian McFall
Vice-President:	Peter Tait
Secretary-Treasurer:	Margot Anderson
Men's Athletics:	Ian Cubitt
Lit. & Deb. Representative:	Warren Higginson
Reading Room Representative:	John Chubb
Dance Committee Representative:	Derek Oland

STEWART ROOM FLOOR CAVES IN

The Walter Stewart Room has been closed for the past several days due to the dangerous condition of the floor. Many of the tiles have become loosened and pulled out, due, it is believed, to faulty workmanship in laying them.

The Stewart Room is under the jurisdiction of the Students' Council, but neither the Secretary nor the President was informed of the circumstances which warranted the closing of the room. The Council regrets any inconvenience caused to the Student body by the temporary loss of this facility, and it is hoped that the necessary repairs will be completed and the Stewart Room reopened during the next few days.

FOR THE COMING SOCIAL SEASON

The whirl of Literary and Debating Society events began on Wednesday evening with "Fun Nite" which was enjoyed by all who attended. At the first Lit and Deb meeting on Monday night the coming season of events was discussed. One of the first events, and one which the whole student body looks forward to, is "Amateur Nite" which will be held next Wednesday. This, along with other events for future Lit and Deb entertainments, will be held in the Assembly Hall, and it will be an excellent opportunity for the members of our Student Body to display their talents, which I am sure are many and varied.

Beginning almost immediately are the Interclass Plays, and it is expected that every class will have an entry. As most of you know, points are awarded each class for their participation in these Lit and Deb competitions.

Be sure to keep your eyes open for the events to be held throughout this term, including the McGill Choral Society and Sadie Hawkins Week. Beware men - Marryin' Sam is on his way!!

FEATURES

THE OPEN ROAD

by the Features Editor.

Every year - particularly during the summer - many Canadians and Americans tour various parts of Europe. Their object is generally to see as much as they can in the time at their disposal, and within the limits of their budget. Many of them are retired business men with both the time and the means to travel. Few of us, however, are rich, and few of us want to wait until we're retired to see the world. Therefore, unless we join the Navy, we must look for some way around these obstacles, and there is one very possible solution.

If you have approximately two weeks of freedom during the summer, a good store of energy, and thirty dollars, plus the rather gruesome price of a return ticket on a flight from Montreal to London, England, you're ready for adventure. The first thing to do is write for a membership card from either the Youth Hostel's Association, (Y.H.A.), or the Cyclists Touring Club. Both are international organizations dedicated to helping the person who wishes to travel on foot (hitch-hiking is very popular in England for both men and women) or by bicycle, and live simply, in order to see as much as possible of Europe. In Great Britain and N. Ireland there are over four hundred hostels; Germany and Switzerland are noted for their many excellent accommodations, and similar hostels can be found in almost any European country which your passport allows you to enter. An individual membership fee will never be more than three dollars and will entitle you to enter any hostel where you can obtain bed and breakfast for approximately forty cents. You can also buy your dinner there very cheaply or make it yourself in the hostel kitchen.

In London the Y.H.A. operates a special shop which sells a great variety of inexpensive equipment for campers, hikers and cyclists, and you can rent a very good geared bike for under five dollars for fourteen days. I wouldn't advise trying to cycle out of London, however, after going through the rather hair-raising experience myself with two other female greenhorns! Take a train! The fare is quite cheap; at one point in our journey we travelled one hundred and fifty miles by rail with our "machines" aboard for a dollar and a half - or its British equivalent.

When we left London at the beginning of our two week holiday our possessions consisted of a good map of the area we intended to cover, a booklet showing the positions of the hostels, a knapsack apiece-weighing about twenty-five pounds-a ground-sheet per person and a tool kit. This equipment proved quite sufficient. By the end of our travels we were averaging over ninety miles a day quite comfortably, and when we said good-bye to England after our holiday was over, we had each spent less than twenty dollars. Fortunately, we were spared the expense of crossing the Atlantic (which by plane is slightly over four hundred dollars for the round trip), since our families were all with the Canadian Forces in Europe, and with a thirty dollar return ticket to Dusseldorf airport in Germany, the entire trip cost us about fifty dollars. During those two weeks we had a wonderful time, covered quite a bit of territory, and learnt something about cycling and about the country, its castles, cathedrals, and particularly its people.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Y.H.A., or any aspect of cycling or hitch-hiking in Europe, please contact the Features Editor for information as to where to write.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

In a little over a month the first of three community concerts will be coming to Macdonald - The Totenberg Ensemble, a very highly rated group of musicians who recently toured Europe, begin the series on November 14. They will be followed by Theodore Lettvin, an accomplished pianist, on February 24, and Maureen Forrester, contralto, on April 10. All the concerts will begin promptly at 8:15 p.m., and will average about two hours in length. Community Concert membership cards must be presented at the door, and late arrivals will only be seated between groups of numbers.

After each concert, it is the members privilege to entertain the artist or artists at an informal gathering where the performers may meet their audience and vice versa. Any member interested in such a programme is asked to contact the Secretary of the Association, Miss Guen Sydney, so that arrangements may be made. The dates again are November 14, February 24, and April 10, when all music lovers will be "in their element"!

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS' ORGANIZATION

The International Students' Organization gives Canadian and foreign students an opportunity to meet bi-monthly to discuss matters of interest in their respective countries, and in this way share, understand, and respect the diverse circumstances peculiar to these countries. The executive wishes to emphasize the fact that this is not a 'Foreign Students' club, but an 'International' organization, and as such membership of Canadian students is important.

The first meeting of this session will be held on Sunday, Oct. 6, at 1:30 p.m., in the Seminar Room, when the President will give his welcome address. Everyone is welcome, and it is hoped that the Organization will have a large membership this year.

THE DANCE COMMITTEE SHOULD BE SCRAPPED

What is the purpose of a Dance Committee? It would appear that the purpose is to promote dances which would provide a favourable atmosphere for the enhancement of students' social life. This definition admittedly, is one man's opinion and is subject to debate. However, no other definition can vary appreciably from the one outlined, since the very term "Dance Committee" is, by and large self-explanatory. In view of the above, it is inconceivable that there is a Dance Committee here at Mac. Can it be that the students who make up this Committee are incapable of the job they have been assigned to do, or is it that this Committee is completely useless?

The first and only dance of the year so far was the Registration Dance on September 24. Those who attended must have been terribly disappointed, and it would seem that the Dance Committee felt the same way, since they have not attempted to have another dance since then. The first Saturday night of the year passed by and the campus remained as quiet as a cemetery at midnight. No other organization on this campus has the opportunity to start the College year with a bang as does the Dance Committee. The responsibility is theirs, and if their shoulders give way under this small burden, they should be relieved of the job. It seems logical that a "big affair" on the first Saturday night of the College year would be the right way to propel the social machine into motion. This fact has been realized on the campus of all other Colleges - both here and in the United States. Mac., (rather our Dance Committee) remains backward in this respect.

Music is undoubtedly one of the major ingredients of a dance. This is a truism which has apparently escaped the attention of this Committee. One could safely wager that the newest addition to their collection of records dates back to the late forties. It might be that they are unaware of the fact that we are now in the late fifties. This is, indeed, a possibility. If this error of a decade is a reality - that is, if the Committee in fact does not realize that we are now in the late fifties - then the criticism of their collection is regretted since "to err is human". However, it is suggested that some of the proceeds of the Registration Dance be directed to the purchase of new records - records made for dancing!

The main duty of any committee is organization. A dance committee is at an advantage since public response to dances is universally enthusiastic. In spite of this, the Macdonald Dance Committee has always shown a complete lack of success in its efforts. It is lamentable when one realizes that the unorganized Friday night sessions to the Recreation Centre's jukebox supercedes by far any efforts of the Dance Committee.

There are three formal dances (Proms) during the College year, and none of these are promoted by the Dance Committee. This committee does not therefore make any major contribution to the social life on this campus. If this organization is barren of ideas, then there should be a suggestion box, and here is the first contribution. The ice rink has just been roofed this summer. Before it is flooded, could the dance committee not promote a really big dance in the rink? This would not necessarily be a formal, but a big band could be hired, and a very fine evening's entertainment provided. This to my mind would be an appropriate way to open the newly covered rink. It is also an opportunity for the dance committee to serve a useful purpose.

Unless the committee can serve the students, it should be scrapped.

SEVEN DAYS

Before he was old enough
To know what God meant,
He began pestering Him.
On the First Day
He asked Him for something,
praying:
"Dear God,
I'll never ask for anything
again
As long as I live,
If only this once..."
He was a child then,
Wanting a bicycle for Christmas.

On the Second Day,
He prayed, saying:
"Dear God,
Never again will I ask...
But this time...
Please..."
He was a student
Asking for a passing grade
In higher Mathematics.

On the Third Day,
He prayed the prayer again,
But without realizing what
he said,
Because he was thinking
Of Her.
"All I'll ever ask of you
Is Her."
He begged.
So God gave Her to him.

On the Fourth Day,
He became a father,
And God was once more requested
To guarantee the results.
"...Though never again a favor,"
He promised.
But God was a little skeptical
by now.

On the Fifth Day,
It was at a business
conference,
When he felt another moment
of inadequacy
And called upon God
To carry him through the crisis.
"Is this the last time?",
Asked God.
"Oh, yes," was the answer.
"Very well," said God,
And performed another miracle.

On the Sixth Day
He was an old man,
Very old and very senile,
But he clung to Life,
And was afraid of Death.
And he began:
"Dear God,
I'll never ask for anything
again
As long as I live..."
"That's true,"
Said God.
And he died.
And on the Seventh Day
God rested.

At 2 A.M. a four-year old awoke and asked his mother to tell him a fairy tale. "Be patient, Junior said the mother, "Daddy will soon be home and tell us both one."

SMITH SPEAKS OUT
(Reprinted from the "McGill Daily")

Dr. Sidney Smith, former President of the University of Toronto, was noted for his quotable comments. Here are some shorts from speeches and reports to his students over the past 12 years. Dr. Smith was recently appointed Minister for External Affairs succeeding the Hon. Lester B. Pearson.

ON EDUCATION:

"A college career is not the only way to heaven."

"The true objective of every member of this university should be to become an educated being."

"Education is never - can never be - completed. It is a continuous and unceasing process."

"The university cannot meet the needs of the country for graduates by dropping its standards, by taking everybody in and pushing everybody through."

"Education on the university level should be limited to those few who can profit by it; the door of the universities should not be opened to a flood of freshmen a great many of them with no particular interest in or qualification for a university education."

"Those who criticize schools and colleges are frequently parents who might well re-examine the measure of their discharge in their homes of their educational responsibilities."

FOR FRESHMEN:

"If you attend classes... absorbing uncritically any drops of information that happen to hit you, you can expect to resemble in the end a piece of soggy blotting paper which is neither a useful nor an attractive object."

"Departmental exams alone are no longer a sufficient guide in determining University entrance requirements. We need the aid of subjective reports as well as objective tests to choose the students with mental and moral capacity for work at the university level."

"There is student government and self discipline (on the Toronto campus) to the utmost degree that is consistent with the interests of the whole academic community, but it is not absolute."

On compulsory non-military training: "Boys should do a year of conservation work - but I don't know what I would do with the girls."

TO HIS STUDENTS:

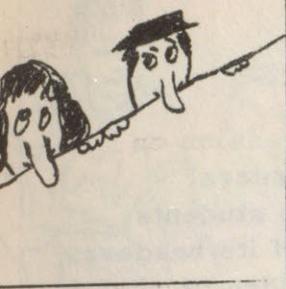

"You as a battalion in the peaceful army that sets forth from this university and other institutions of higher learning can relieve the gloomy prospect - of the atomic age - can be a greater force in the world than any secret of power wrested from nature."

"The most valuable member in society is the man or woman who has the capacity to dissent, who sets up a resistance to mass movements and mass ideas."

"I will defend the right and indeed the duty of a university to enable its students to understand and to decide for themselves public issues."

"Solitude produces a clarity of inner vision that is otherwise unattainable."

JUST CHADDING

"Well," said Chad, as he wheeled into my room the other day. "I'm glad to see you're back". Yeah? I replied, "I'm afraid I can't say the same about you. This means I'll have to start writing up your little anecdotes again". "You don't have to, you know," he replied. "Weellll," I mused, "I guess I really don't mind too much.....so what happened to you this summer". He sat back with that silly satisfied grin on his face and said, "Oh nothing, I did get married though." "What!!" I yelled, "you too?" "Yep," he said, "it seemed to be the fashion so I went out and got me a cute little filly". "Well," says I, "how about bringing her in and introducing her to me". "Into the Men's Residence! Like fun!" Mrs. Strang would blow her top.....WHOOOOOOOM. ? "I think I'll just let her remain anonymous for a while". She's going to help me with the Women's Residence news". "Goody," says I, "better news coverage - better articles . So what have you got this week?"

"Well the wife did tell me that the gals, particularly the freshettes are disappointed in that the boys aren't asking them out enough. If seems they are getting tired just sitting around the residence nights, and would like to see more of the campus, by floodlight." "That sounds like Mac girls! Lead on..."

"The senior girls," he continued, "are tired of parking under the willow tree. They want the boys to share or make more use of those "brown stickers". "N.C." says I, with a sly grin, "mine's getting around enough." "You don't say? I'll have to look into that".

"The wife also says that several members of the junior class are keeping in touch with love and romance by watching the antics of two goldfish in a pickle jar . They are presumably male and female . How do you tell girls?"

"The Home Ec. girls were briefed on a certain informative book at the pyjama party Tuesday night . Perhaps a few of them will no longer be afraid of dating two dashing young Aggies."

"Just the other day," Chad said, "I myself overheard a certain senior entomologist exchanging platonic ideas with a very enthusiastic campaign manager . 'No names of course... I'll just let you guess'.

"I also overheard two Teachers at our local club coyly talking to two Aggies... "We're Teachers but we're nice Teachers". "What next?"

Good Night All! See you next week.

ATTENTION ALL READERS!

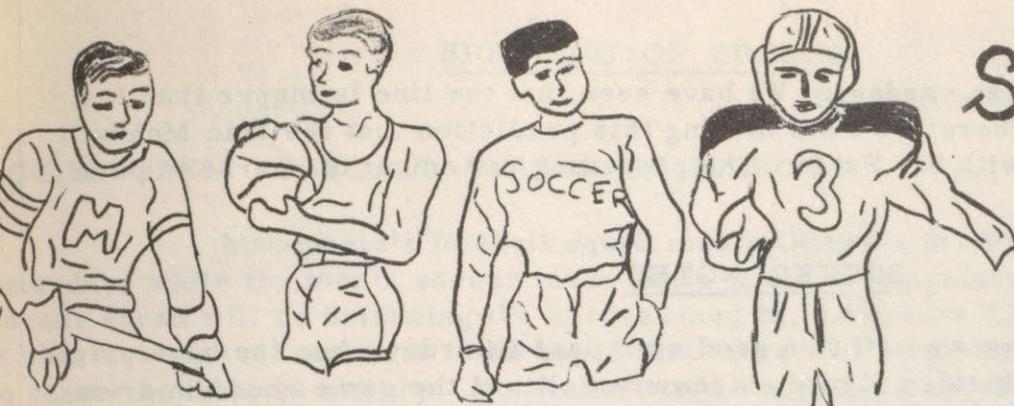

This paper is meant to be, in part, an outlet for student expression on our campus. So far, however, it has been mainly the result of a general racking of brains of the Editorial Staff - a very small handful of the students of Macdonald College. A successful paper must hold the interest of its readers, and it is reasonable to assume that you, the reader, are the best judge of what type of articles you'd like to see in your college paper. It is also fairly certain that what interests you, will quite possibly interest your room-mate and the fellows or the girls down the hall, so why not "share the wealth"? If you happen to stumble upon a good piece of news, or some noteworthy incident, or if you just want to express yourself on any subject from "lighting in the library" to "midnight under the willow", then by all means jot it down in reasonably intelligible English and send it to us. Jokes and cartoons will also be welcome - providing they aren't too highly spiced!

We are still in need of reporters, incidentally, so if anybody wants an interesting and worthwhile job, they need only contact any one of the "Faint-Ye Time's" staff and they will be welcome.

Remember, this is your paper, and its success depends upon the contributions of each one of you. Please address anything you wish to send in to Box 334, if possible by the Monday evening before the paper goes to press.

MEET THE COACH

Well last week we met the new captains of this year's football team. This week we are going to meet the coach. As you probably know the coach is Mr. Robert Pugh. Bob is in his second year as the head coach of the "Mac" Aggies, and also in his second year as the Director of Men's Athletics. Bob is a most capable coach because of the experience he has had playing football. In all, Bob has been playing for over thirteen years. He played Junior for Verdun, Senior for the Eastern Champion Navy, Senior with Westmount and Verdun. He played also for his own Verdun High School. For all his playing days, Bob ran from the Quarter-back slot. This, I am sure you will agree with me, is a main reason why Bob is one of the best, if not the best coach, in our football league.

ALONG THE SIDELINES ----- Jordan Ingram

This is it, this is the week of the first football game. On Saturday our own Mac Aggies will take on Ottawa St. Pats. in Ottawa. For those who were not at Mac last year, I will recap a bit of last year's highlights of the St. Pats. game. The game was tied eleven all. Mac had undoubtedly out-played the Irishmen, but those of us who know St. Pats and their many desperation plays will remember how a person by the name of Roydon Kealey ran the width of the field and threw a forty yard pass to our five yard line.

We know that it will be a different story this year. I am sure that in the game this Saturday that Macdonald will out-play St. Pats so that no play such as this will help them win or gain a tie.

From last Saturday's inter-squad game we have seen that Mac has the men to leg the ball for that extra yardage. We have seen that the line is bigger than last year, but just as fast. Therefore I am making this prediction that the Mac Men will have little or no trouble with St. Pats. The preceding statement of course is pure speculation.

SOCER NOTES

The soccer season was off to a good start last Saturday when the boys played an intersquad game. Both sides played extremely well and the game ended in a win for the "Greens" lead by Mike Shaw, goal scorers being Roache and Arthurs.

The performance of newcomers Ian Lawrie and Ivor Williams as fullbacks was particularly creditable, while old stalwarts Mike Shaw, Max Brown, and Laurie Sharp showed fine form. With the return of George Beckford and Lou Walker who did not play last Saturday, the line-up should be quite formidable and a very successful season is expected.

Our notes would not be complete without a word of thanks to those fans who turned out on Saturday to see the boys play. This Saturday the first league match will be played against C.M.R. (College Militaire Royale) and we are looking forward to a large attendance.

While soccer is comparatively new in these parts, it is a very interesting game to watch and an easy one to follow, so come on out on Saturday and give your team a big hand.

CHEERLEADING

Cheerleading practices for this year started last week. Great enthusiasm was shown by the girls as the average turnout was 25 at each tryout. We still would like to see some boys out too!!

This year the cheerleaders will act as a sports team. They will be available for any home games of any sport male or female as suggested by the Manager of that sport. They may also travel to one out of town game each year if the conditions are approved by the W.A.A.

The final tryout will be Monday Oct. 7, in the Assembly Hall. It was hoped that the final number would be 6 girls and 2 boys, but so far no boys have turned up. So come on, fellows, let's show some whoop and holler!

GGIES OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON TOMORROW!

Macdonald's football squad meets Ottawa's St. Pats in Ottawa on Saturday, while the men's soccer team battle it out here against C.M.R. The soccer squad will be defending the hard-earned St. Lawrence Championship which they won last season, and it is to be hoped that there will be plenty of supporters out to cheer the team to victory. While the battle rages here at Macdonald, the women's soccer team will encounter the McGill girls at McGill. We wish them lots of luck! On Wednesday last, showing true form they defeated Macdonald High School 2-0. For this we extend to the team our heartiest congratulations.

Intercollegiate track practices have begun this week, and the interclass track meet is scheduled for Oct. 16. This event includes both men and women, and will take the form of a tabloid meet, which was first introduced here last year. It should be remembered that the important thing in interclass sports is not winning but participating. Officials are needed for interclass competition, so everyone can do his or her share.

Men's interclass football gets underway on Monday night and will continue every evening, rain or shine. The McGill Redmen will open the schedule tomorrow against Western, after trouncing Queens 23-0 last weekend, and next Saturday our boys will play Bishops. In the past we have always had a number of spectator buses for this trip, and we are looking forward to even greater support this year. It is nice to see such a large turnout of girls for cheerleading. How about you, men?

The women's intercollegiate tennis team plays Marianapolis on Tuesday at the Macdonald courts, and our male tennis squad is now training for a tournament to be held at C.M.R. It looks as though we'll give the young officers something to worry about!

COMING EVENTS

There is a Soccer game scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 5 at 2:00 p.m., when Mac will play host to C.M.R.

A Track and Field Meet is to be held on Oct. 16 at 2:30 p.m. If you haven't already signed up for your class, now is the time to do it.

On Oct. 19, the Macdonald Graduate Society affiliated with the McGill Graduate Society will hold a reunion. This is the 50th Anniversary of the first class of students who registered at Macdonald College in 1907.

The Film Society hold their first meeting on Oct. 7 in Room 258, Main Building around 7 p.m.

As yet the date for the Teachers' Prom has not been decided, tentative dates are Nov. 1 or Nov. 8.

Next week, on Oct. 9, the Lit. and Deb. Society will present "Amateur Night", their second event of the year. All undergraduates with any talent are taking part.
